2. Personal Information Policy

Websites <https://www.vanhapappilahetki.fi/> ja <https://hetki.sportum.info/> collect anonymous visitor data through Google analytics. This means a code is generated for each visitor, called a cookie, through which Google Analytics collects statistics on site usage. If after accepting a cookie a user returns to the site with the same device or computer, Google Analytics registers this too, but visitor identity is not recorded.

Websites <https://www.vanhapappilahetki.fi/> and <https://hetki.sportum.info/> servers also collect anonymous user data, such as Internet protocol (IP) addresses, browser type, Internet service provider (ISP), referring or exit pages, the files viewed on the site (e.g., HTML pages, graphics, etc.), operating system, date/time stamp, and clickstream data. Such data may be sent to the site administrator.

This anonymous data from the server and Google Analytics is used for creating reports and statistical analyses on site visits, as well as for marketing purposes such as following the effects of newsletters and press releases.

Your personal information is handled when you order accommodation services or fill out other forms in <https://www.vanhapappilahetki.fi/> and <https://hetki.sportum.info/>. This data is only used for the intended purpose that reads in the form.

You can ask more about our data collection policy more from our customer service.

COOKIES

We're using cookies on <https://www.vanhapappilahetki.fi/> and <https://hetki.sportum.info/> to understand how visitors navigate our website.

1. What are cookies?

Cookies help collect user statistics on the website. A cookie is a short piece of text copied to your browsing device, which helps the website track traffic. The cookie also lets the site know it's you when you return to the site. Cookies make using our site easier and faster.

2. What kind of cookies does <https://www.vanhapappilahetki.fi/> and <https://hetki.sportum.info/> use?

Cookies can be both temporary or persistent. Temporary cookies expire when you close your browser. Persistent cookies expire after a predetermined time.

The cookies we use help us run the site better. They measure site performance and visitor activity and help us improve your browsing experience. The information our cookies collect is anonymous.

Our site may also accept cookies from third parties, such as Facebook or Google ads. These third parties are responsible for their cookies and the information they collect. All information on third party cookies can be found on their respective website.

3. How do I manage cookies?

You can decide yourself if and how you want to enable cookies on the device you browse on. You can configure your browser to stop accepting cookies, delete any saved cookies and ask to be notified if a site uses cookies.

Go to your browser's settings and follow the directions to cookie settings. Our cookies only collect anonymous information and not accepting cookies can result in a poorer browsing experience and also make accommodation reservation difficult.
